Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hadley (3,969,256).

Hadley discloses a soap bar with a central plastic core (see abstract, examples and claims).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Allen (3,796,665).

Allen discloses a soap bar whose core member consists of a hollow plastic shape (see claims).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stern (1,615,244).

Stern discloses a soap bar having a plastic insert (pg. 1, lines 60-78).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lindauer et al (4,438,010).

Lindauer et al disclose a soap tablet comprising a plastic core (see claim 1).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Di Giovanna (4,308,157).

Art Unit: 1751

Di Giovanna discloses a soap saver bar having a plastic insert member (see entire reference).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7-10-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the insert is to be positioned by the consumer and not in the factory.

The examiner contends that the manner in which the plastic insert material is inserted is given no patentable weight. The bars may be prepared by consumers or commercially. Furthermore, it has been held that A claim containing a "recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus" if the prior art apparatus teaches all the structural limitations of the claim. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1987).

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
